Numerous musical awards, Camera Club awards, and Blue and Gold certificates were presented at this time also. Mary Anne Myers received a French award for placing second in the American Teachers of French Contest for the French I students of Maine. Raymond Chase presented the state track championship awards. The assembly came to a close with the presentation of the class will, class gifts, and class prophecy with Jane Edwards presiding as chairman.

At 11:00 Friday morning, the class of 1952 went to Thompson Pond at Otisfield for their class picnic. Thus, the day ended with everyone having an enjoyable time.

The Alumni Banquet was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium on Saturday, June 7. The speaker was Professor Allen Foley of the History Department from Dartmouth College. Following the usual tradition, there was a baseball game between the alumni and the varsity at 3:00. Later there was a tea at the Headmaster's home.

Saturday evening brought the climax of the day. The Senior Reception was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium. Don Lord and his Maine Men furnished the music.

The Baccalaureate Services were on Sunday morning, June 8, at the Congregational Church. The sermon was given by Reverend John J. Foster.

At 2:30, Sunday afternoon, the Commencement Program began. Fifty-nine seniors marched into the William Bingham Gymnasium to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance.

Invocation	Mary Stevens
Pale Moon	Girls' Glee Club
Salutatory — A Boy's View of Citizenship	John Willard

Your Land and My Land
Boys' Glee Club

Guest Speaker —
Margaret Chase Smith
United States Senator from Maine
"Responsibilities of a Citizen"

Valedictory — A Girl's View of Citizenship — Carol Barton

Announcement of Honors
Elwood F. Ireland, Headmaster

Awarding of Diplomas
Dr. Arthur L. Walters
Vice-President, Trustees

Benediction — Mary Stevens

As the resonant tones of Pomp and Circumstance filled the gym, the Class of 1952 marched out to face the problems of the world and to put to use the knowledge that they had acquired at Gould. No doubt, they will learn better the meaning of our motto "To Thine Own Self Be True" in the future years. Thus, another Commencement Program is ended.

With the Juniors

At last we have become upperclassmen!

Our class officers for 1952-53 were elected as follows:

President	Gail Waldron
Vice President	Peter St. Laurence
Secretary	Donna Anderson
Treasurer	Richard Onofrio

The class voted to make up two Thanksgiving baskets for families in town, each junior donating food.

Then, as the basketball season approached, it was decided to sell hotdogs at games in order to defray graduating expenses. We also held a campaign of selling post cards to increase the class treasury. It is hoped that next year's graduation will be less expensive than originally expected.

The following states the title which each member of the class might give were he asked to deliver a speech (Oh, no! not a speech!)

HERBERT ADAMS
"We Live Only Once"

DONNA ANDERSON
"Dependability"

With the Sophomores

The class of '55 has survived two years here at Gould now without losing too many classmates and gaining them from places as far away as Arabia. When elections were held and the ballots were counted last fall, the class officers were elected as follows:

President	Patricia Allen
Vice-President	David Biggins
Secretary	Mimi Richmond
Treasurer	Jane Smith

Our class colors are blue and white, and we have blue onyx rings.

When we've left G. A's campus and books are forgotten, I wonder what the future has in store for each of us. As I gaze into my crystal ball, this is what it tells me.

Mary Bennett is going to travel all over Africa studying the customs and traditions of native tribes there.

David Biggins is going to spend his retiring years in Arabia with his camels and a luscious harem.

Beverly Blake is going to write soap operas and stories for love comics.

Wendell Bragg is going to join the Foreign Legion.

Kenneth Bumpus will be a traveling salesman, specializing in reconditioned vacuum cleaners and French bathing suits.

Having become the world's greatest in all sports, Eddie Burnham will, with ten gallons of ink, settle down to a life of autographing pictures of himself for an adoring public.

Bettyann Butters is going to be a song writer and advertise by singing them on a television program.

Lida Capelle will own a large candle factory and will keep future Gehring Hall occupants fully supplied, remembering the ones that she went to sleep by.

Lee Carroll is going to develop Carroll's Code System for a new branch of ham radio operators.

Teddy Carter is going to become a senator.

Mary Jane Chapman is going to establish a "Home for Aged Jokes."

Bill Coolidge is going to master a giant trampoline and become "King of Trampolines."

Phil Corey is going to write a book and title it "Why Silence is Golden."

Dick Corey will own a large night club and become a confirmed bachelor.

Carl Corkum will become a great explorer and go into the mysterious jungles of uncivilized Africa.

Verne Corkum will establish a thriving dental business.

When he makes his million, Bill Daley will tour the world on a pogo stick, content to munch on sample dog biscuits.

Norman Davis will become a janitor in the Pentagon and will concentrate on polishing the big brass (!) (doorknobs?)

Howard Donahue will be an olympic ski champion and will win the jumping contest against Mickey Mouse in 1980.

In a few years Kay Dorey will be sharing a taxi with Margaret Truman as the two of them travel to the Met for a day's vocal workout.

In 1972 Bob Edney will gain world admiration for the unbelievable feat of ascending Mount Everest on a hippopotamus.

Fred Fanning will become famous for the invention of a new dance step and will travel abroad to demonstrate it.

Dorothy Foster will become an acrobat and join a famous vaudeville team to make grand tours all over the country.

When finally Dick Gilman has had all his questions answered, he will become Master of Ceremonies on a quiz program.

Nesta Gordon is going to be a fortune teller.

Calvin Gross is going to become the owner of a chain of department stores.

Patsy Gunther will be a hula-hula dancer in Hawaii.

After her piano playing has become famous in Carnegie Hall, Ruth Hall will tour the world in a super jet.

When Franklin Harrington becomes president of some prosperous bank, I'm sure he'll lend each of us lots of money!

When Arthur Head returns from the Presidency of the United States, he'll drive a Cadillac.

Barbara Hulbert will become Ike's private secretary when he has retired.

Ten years from now Barb Jodrey will have her name up in lights; she'll be playing somebody's mother again.

Winnie Korhonen is going to become a greeting card designer.

Clark Leighton is going to invent a super car that will surpass the Cadillac. It will be called The Leighton Special.

David Lord is going to get rich and famous for his invention of invisible earphones for radios, vics, and roommates!

Bill Lord is going to become a fabulous matador in Old Mexico.

Carol Ludwig will become a torch singer. Her specialty will be Night Train.

Shirley Mason will be an artist and will go to France to study (?)

Gene McAllister will find a gold mine under his home and retire on the wealth that he mines from it.

Edward McDonald will take Errol Flynn's place in the movie industry.

Judy McIntyre is going to become a novelist and write inaugural speeches for future Presidents, trying to work in a French accent.

Curtney Mead is going to become an oil tycoon when he strikes it rich in a Texan oil field.

Alma Merrill is going to become a professional photographer for a leading newspaper.

June Merrill is going to have a completely glass house so that she will think that she's sleeping outside. We know all about that mania of yours, June. Imagine, trying to sleep with snow whistling 'round your ears.

Beverly Noyes will become a private clothes designer for Marilyn Monroe.

Hilda Rafuse will represent the United States in women's Olympic skiing in 1964.

Jennie Richardson, dripping with mink and diamonds, will be palling around with Rita Hayworth's ex.

Mimi Richmond will be a cigarette girl in the Stork Club and will spend her leisure hours sampling what she sells.

Sylvia Ring will be an army wife and travel all over the world.

Howard Rolfe will be debating on whether or not he should sign a contract with Interspace Baseball, Inc.

Phil Rowe will take over President Eisenhower's present occupation.

Iva Rugg is going to become editor of a prosperous magazine.

Doug Saunders will sell his pile of drums and will settle for a nice quiet (?) violin.

Grace Smith is going to become Queen of Cowgirls and star in Dale Evans' place.

Jane Smith will become a noted film celebrity and will have to wear dark glasses to conceal her identity from raging mobs of ardent fans.

Larry Spinney will become a butcher and sell nylon stockings as a sideline.

David Stevens will become a psychologist to see if he can find out why so many people talk so much about nothing.

Dale Stevens will become a famous model.

George Stowell is going to become a successful insurance salesman.

Suzanne Stowell is "waiting for her ship to come in", and when it does, it will be manned by a handsome captain, whom she will marry and live happily with ever after.

Eleanor Sumner will soon be heading for the South Sea Islands to retire to the life of an ex-movie queen.

After studying long and hard at various colleges and universities and attaining several degrees, Carter Taylor will head for the deep dark forest of the north woods to become a recluse.

Richard Trimback is going to buy all of John D. Rockefeller's property.

Judy Ward will marry a retired lawyer and see the world in her own private jet.

Dianne Watson is going to win Miss America title in 1960. Of course she'll ruin the Miss part of it by getting married.

Carolyn Weymouth is going to attempt to swim the English Channel and back again. (P. S. As she is sinking for the third time, a handsome lifeguard will rescue her and etc., etc., etc.)

Suzanne Wight is going to become a stewardess on a trans-oceanic plane.

Malvern Wilson will buy Bing Crosby's ranch for a small fortune and will raise pink elephants there.

Jim York will become a test pilot for rockets headed for Mars.

Lorita York is going to start an all girls' star basketball team to compete with teams like the Globetrotters.

There it is—the future of the class of '55. Some of you must be pretty surprised at your fortunes, but there it was in the crystal ball, and I couldn't do a thing about it. As for me, I'll probably spend my life trying to get a few autographs from these classmates of mine.

JOSEPH WATSON—will write Ripley's "Believe It Or Not."

HOWARD WEST—will drive a truck, and I hope by that time with a license.

MERLE WHITE—will pick the high oranges from the trees of California.

GLORIA WILSON—will give up trying to be quiet and prove she has a voice.

WESLEY YOUNG—will perfect a double flip on his shoes with wheels.

DAVID WILLARD, '56

Gehring Hall

As I walked down Church Street in Bethel, Maine, one warm sunny day in June, I was surprised to see dozens of cars surrounding the Marian True Gehring dormitory at the Academy. Coming from the open windows I heard shouts of greeting and recognition. Being of a curious nature, I entered the building and stopped one of the many women in the lobby to inquire about the gathering. She answered, with a pleasant smile, that the Gehring Hall group of 1952-1953 was having its tenth annual reunion and invited me to join them.

She introduced herself as Colleen Mead, explaining that she and Joan Shippee had taken a brief vacation from their orphanage in Rhode Island in order to attend this gala affair. I was directed to the living room where I was confronted with a group of women, all intent upon the proceedings. Each was rising, giving her name and telling of the work which she was doing. Patty Allen and Diane Watson were first on the list, reporting that they had opened a beauty parlor in a popular resort area. Judy Ward had realized her ambition and told of her career as a concert pianist. Val Kelch was then called upon to tell us her fame in golfing circles. Rosalie Glover has been traveling the tournament circuit with her so she won't be lonely. It wasn't necessary for Joan Cambell to tell us her occupation; it was evident from the uniform that she's in the Wacs. Four women in nurses uniforms, Mary Hewitt, Ann Boardway, Pat Irving, and Ann Chandler, told us a little of their interesting work. Dale Stevens said she's been acting as a disk jockey on WHDH in Boston. Jeanne Gallagher, Jini Lewis, Cleta and Gail Waldron, Hope Guild, Judy Lamson, and Sara Doloff have all entered the teaching profession and Jini and Jeannee are gym teachers in their local high schools; Cleta teaches chemistry under her sister, Gail, who has rapidly risen to the position of Dean there. Hope teaches chemistry in Castine; Judy is coach of the Middlebury Women's Ski Team and Sara is Director of Visual Education in Boston schools. Gould girls seem to have a desire for distant lands. Marcia Theriault has been in France studying and traveling extensively. Val Stevens is the proud owner of a ski lodge in Switzerland where Bobsie Dudley and her magic skis are the main attraction. Mary Patrick has just returned from a safari in Africa; Lucy Beckett commutes between Ohio and South America where she is employed as a mechanical engineer, and Nancy Taillon has a position in the Guatemala government, although she was able to be present at the reunion. Rhoda Downing has been doing missionary work in China; Brita Myhrman just completed a cruise in the Virgin Islands and Charlotte Bidwell is continually setting sail for some distant point where she thinks she might gain information for her latest biological survey. Cleo Stinchfield and Frankie Russell are both on the staff of the New York TIMES, Frankie doing the obituaries and Cleo writing a daily humorous column. Bette Todd looked as though the ups and downs as an airline hostess agree with her. Chickie Weymouth arose in a dress designed for her by Judy McIntyre. Chickie's picture may be seen in almost any fashion magazine. Nancy Barba then told us of her recent skating experiences in Madison Square Garden. Julie Wass traveled with Nancy from New York where she may be seen doing a graceful pirouette on the stage at Carnegie Hall. Hallie Stevens drove her hearse up from Boston where she is a mortician and with her came Jo Durham who is a hair stylist there. Lida Capell confessed she had spent the past week in the Maine woods indulging in her favorite pastime — photographing the countryside. Bounce Wallis is the proud owner of a fine stable in Kentucky where she trains and races her horses. Sandy Hatch spends her time pouring over books of philosophy and is hoping to do a little writing herself. Ann Backus has followed in her father's footsteps and is now a representative to Congress from Vermont. Polly Timperley took a quick trip to Bethel from Philadelphia where she is starring in a light comedy. Cindy Ferris has organized her own dance band and Carol Ludwig is currently popular as an entertainer in Portland supper clubs. Colleen then got up and read the list of those absent — Eleanor Merriam is busy spending money in New York; Martha Daland is swimming on the West Coast; Betsi Mumford is in Paris as a buyer for Lork and Taylor; Betty Gould is in the diplomatic service in Europe; Mimi Richmond is busy upholding her title as Washington's number one hostess and Gail DiBiaso is making a tour of the continent. When the last name was read I quietly left this gay group and came home to jot down my memories of a Gehring Hall reunion.

Holden Hall

We started this year with the usual group of bright-eyed freshmen and new students.

The annual dorm party was staged the 6th of December. Due to the fine co-operation of the students and the invaluable help of Mr. Thompson, everything was a success. The Christmas party was held the night before vacation began.

To give the reader of this article some idea of the "characters" of the boys in the dorm, I have, after much hard work, drawn up these personals which I hope will serve that purpose.

That's quite a trophy Carter has; he ought to be proud of it.

A familiar sight in the pool room is Joe Watson, Joel Stevens, and Rodman Barlow. Don't you sharks ever get tired of playing?

Howard Brush ought to get together with Hugh; they are interested in the same things — guns and weapons.

Westly Young and Harry Reid are always pestering the proctor to spell words. I think we can chip in, boys, and buy a dictionary for you.

A daily scene from the Awalt-Gale room is a follows:

Van: "Where's my fly-tying outfit? Did you take it, Awalt?"

Hughie: "Well, now, let's see. Yesterday I was reading my new issue of American Riflemen and looking over those new rifles when I came across - - - - ."

Van: "Here we go again!"

Larry Spinney: "Who's the wise guy playing that 45 record on 78?"

Ask Buzzy McMorran to show you that Union Army medal his grandfather won in the Civil War. What Battle, Buz?

There's not much to say about Doug Saunders, except what everyone knows—jazz and drums.

Bob Edney is wiring up Jim's bed to give him quite a "charge".

When are you going to finish that model truck, Jim?

As for Wendell Bragg and David Lord, something ought to be done about that room. Mr. Clunie is in a fairly good mood when he comes over from breakfast to inspect our rooms, but when he comes upon that hovel of Lord's and Bragg's there's trouble!

Frank Linnell is fondly cradling that new guitar in his arms and crooning out a song.

Erwin is "quietly" telling Phil Corey to "can" the trumpet.

It's handy to have that switch box close by isn't it, Dave?

"Buddy" Goodrich is telling Saul about his experiences in Skowhegan and Colby.

What do you call that monstrosity that seems to live in your room? No, I don't mean Edel.

I wonder if Tom and Bill have had any takers on that Club 30 proposition.

Bill and Phil would have quite a time of it if all those representatives were to converge on Gould all at once.

Just what did you do, Dick, when you went with Van to Megantic?

Dale, don't tell me that you've been bitten by the muzzle-loading rifle bug, too!

Dave, do you have to listen to Fred tell about his girl every day?

Just what was wrong with Westminster, Dick?

Fletch, isn't that trout a little big to catch from Rangeley Lakes?

That blanket is going to fall down, Pete, with all those medals on it.

From John Calef's room we hear the melodious strains of the "Blue Tango," or is it "Old Black Joe?"

To find Curtney we must go down a few flights of stairs to his subterranean haunt. Yes, there he is in the buttroom.

Next time, Harry and Don, put the recorder behind the sofa during calling hours.

Someone asked Dave, "Haven't you got anything to do?" Dave replied, "Yes, sir, I have, but somebody 'borrowed' my books."

Howard, you and Skip will sound all right with a little more practice, but please, not around here!

Bob, the lights don't go off down there in the basement, do they?

Pete, my roommate, is at his desk busily writing letters. To whom, Pete?

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

In its eighth year as an organization, the Student Council of Gould Academy is continuing to make a fine record for itself as a government under the leadership of members selected from the student body and the supervision of faculty advisors.

The officers, who were elected last fall, are as follows: President: Frank Linnell, Vice President: Edward Hastings, Secretary: Beverly Lurvey, and Treasurer: Charlotte Bidwell.

Mr. Edmond Vachon and Mr. Theodore Emery are filling the positions as faculty advisor and assistant advisor, respectively.

After the first twelve weeks of school, the members of the freshman class elected two of their classmates, Sandra Myers and David Willard, to represent them on the Student Council.

The following committees, which are necessary in order to have the many plans and ideas of the group carried out successfully, were selected by the Council: School Assembly Committee: Gail Waldron, Patricia Allen, and Philip Rowe; Canteen Committee: Jane Smith, Paul Fossett, Charlotte Bidwell, and Frank Linnell.

The Student Council is also represented on the Athletic Council and Frank Linnell is serving in this capacity.

Among the many duties performed by this group throughout the school year are: selecting films and furnishing programs for the morning assemblies, sponsoring the Christmas Formal, conducting fund drives for the March of Dimes, Red Cross, and Heart Association, selling tickets at athletic events, supervising class elections, selling class pins, running the canteen at Friday and Saturday night dances, and ushering at evening programs. The Council has tried to make it possible for more students to have an active part in school affairs.

The main duty of the members of the Student Council, as individuals and as a group, is to hold meetings at which the wishes and ideas of the students and those of the Headmaster are exchanged and discussed. These members of the Student Council hold an honored position and strive to do things for the benefit and betterment of our school.

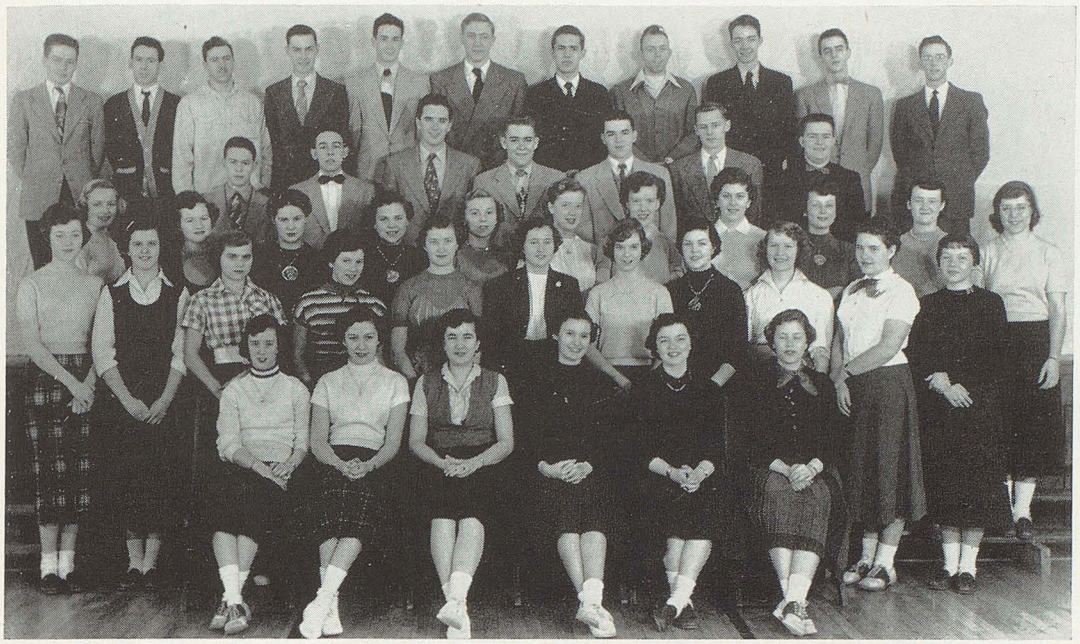
Dean Bennett, Gould Academy's entry in the Maine Apprentice Competition, won the state championship in his field of Cabinet Making. On Saturday, March 28, Dean traveled to Auburn where he competed in the Southern Maine Contest at Edward Little High School. Top honors there necessitated a trip to the State House at Augusta, where in competition against the winner of the Northern Maine Contest, Dean again was awarded the top honors. His fine work brought him two trophies as well as an opportunity to start as an apprentice at the F. O. Bailey Company in Portland.



VARSITY GLEE CLUB

Music

This year, as in previous years, the various musical organizations at Gould have offered to the musically inclined student an opportunity to exercise his talents; whether his musical interests are vocal or instrumental, a student can always find a place in either the glee clubs or the band or orchestra; for the student whose interests are pianistic, valuable opportunities are offered in accompanying the choral groups.

This fall Mr. Jerold Pouzol was employed as director of music; however, since Mr. Pouzol did not return after the Christmas recess, the position was taken over by Mr. Walter Marcuse of Boston, Massachusetts.

BAND:

The band, composed of 23 members, holds its rehearsals every Monday evening in the music room. This year much emphasis was placed on supplying missing instrumentation to make the band a better marching and concert organization. The band is a very important organization in both the school and the town. In addition to adding a great deal of spirit at the football and basketball games, it also provides music for the local Memorial Day services.

ORCHESTRA:

Athough handicapped by a lack of strings, the orchestra, composed of twenty members, is steadily improving in balance and shading. It meets every Thursday.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB:

Because of the large membership, this chorus was divided into two groups: the freshman-sophomore group and the junior-senior group. These two groups alternate rehearsals, each group having a rehearsal every other Monday. Each group learns numbers of its own to be presented at entertainments.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB:

This organization, made up of sixteen hard-working members, meets every Wednesday. To aid in the work in the mixed chorus, the basic principles of singing are taught in this group. The boys also learn numbers of their own to offer at entertainments.

VARSITY GLEE CLUB:

This group, composed of forty members, is a mixed chorus. This organization meets every Friday. In addition to participating in the spring concert, this chorus has provided entertainment at the Christmas assembly and Parents' Weekend.

CHOIR:

In addition to the regular glee clubs, a student may sing in either the Methodist or Congregational choir, both of which meet Thursday evenings.

CHAPMAN CLUB:

This club consists of twenty-five members. Its officers are as follows:

President	Beverly Lurvey
Vice President	Gail Waldron
Secretary	Henrietta Swain
Treasurer	Carlton Brown
Program Chairman	Mary Ellen Douglas

This club, named for the late William Rogers Chapman of Bethel, meets every Tuesday; its purpose is to bring the finest in music to its members and to aid others in appreciating good music. This year the club decided to study the music of the period from 1600 to 1750, known as the Baroque period, and to present music of this type, which is seldom heard, to the public. The club did much research on the subject and gave a very interesting program in the spring.

In the spring, the musical organizations combined to give a concert. The band played several numbers, but emphasis was put on choral music. Each of the glee clubs gave several selections. This combined concert was enjoyed by all and was a fine climax to a successful musical year at Gould.

Rear row: David Willard; Verne Corkum; Paul Fossett; Cleo Stinchfield; Richard Emery; Frank Linnell; Mr. Thompson, faculty advisor.

The Blue and Gold

In its eleventh year of publication, THE BLUE AND GOLD has followed the pattern set by previous years. Mr. Thompson, faculty advisor, started it as a four-page mimeographed sheet in 1942. Later in the school year, with the assistance of Mr. Brown, our local printer, a printed edition similar to the one today, was published. Eight issues have been planned for this year under the editorship of Barbara Cole with Mary Anne Myers and Valeria Stevens assisting. Two of those issues will be six pages, instead of the regular four, published at Christmas and Commencement.

Those who hold other positions on the staff are as follows: Gail Wallis, Photograph Editor; Dave Ault, Sports Editor; Paul Fossett, Assistant Sports Editor; Marie Mills, Alumni Editor; and Phyllis Chadbourne, Frank Linnell and Patricia Allen as Feature Editors. Circulation Manager is Shirlie Bartlett assisted by Barbara Jodrey and Henrietta Swain is Business-Advertising Manager assisted by Mary Jane Chapman.

The typists, Barbara Brown, Clara Foster, and Mary Coolidge, are kept busy by a reportorial staff of twelve co-operative writers.

Although THE BLUE AND GOLD is definitely a student publication, not only the Gould students but many of the alumni, townspeople, and other high schools, with whom we exchange, enjoy reading it.

Under the Cupola, Opinions Appreciated, and Outstanding Among Us are only a few of the columns continued from other years. As a result of a contest for new ideas, several new columns have been added.

One of the most popular extra-curricular activities, the paper is eagerly looked forward to and enthusiastically read by all, students and faculty alike.

THE BLUE AND GOLD has been a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association of Columbia University for the past ten years and has a circulation of approximately four hundred.

Camera Club

During most Tuesday activity periods this year, a group of enthusiastic students met in the lecture room for Camera Club activities under the supervision of Mr. Gayle A. Foster, past president of the Pictorial Photographers of America.

Throughout the year many talks and demonstrations were enjoyed on varied subjects; composition, color photography, use of filters, retouching, developing and printing, Christmas cards, and enlarging were only a few of them. We were interested in slide-talks by various workers, including David Biggins who showed scenes of his travels in Europe. One inspiring meeting was led by Robert Adams, Gould 1949, who displayed a "one-man" show and described the fine work that he is doing at Gorham Teachers College.

In November we had a demonstration and talk on Christmas card making. This resulted in the pleasant activity of many members making their individual cards with various negatives and masks. These snow scenes are always popular, and over one thousand friends of Gouldites received one of them.

Photograms, those interesting photographs made without a camera, were worked on during the winter. Gail Wallis made over a dozen photograms as part of a science fair project.

As usual, the most valuable part of our club work was the cooperation of many members in the darkrooms to make thousands of prints of the sport events, dances, team groups, carnival scenes, and various social functions. This is where we really learned about photography, how to work together, and how to handle paper and chemicals. Many of these enlargements became part of Gould scrapbooks and will furnish pleasant memories of this school year.

The Camera Club has also supplied more than five full pages of pictures for the Academy Herald, illustrations for every issue of the Blue and Gold, and many timely prints for the newspapers. All of these have been fun to do and have given us much experience.

The highlight of the year is the presentation of the annual Camera Club show in June. This year we are showing the usual mounted sheets of Gould activities, and as a feature we are having a jury select the best fifty salon prints that have been made at Gould Academy during the past eleven years. We also are having special showings of photograms and prize contest prints. Every member helps in some way to make this exhibition a success.

Our photographic bulletin board, in the upper hall of Hanscom Hall, has become a popular viewing space for many students of Gould. Carol Cummings, head of the bulletin board committee, deserves much praise for the fine work in keeping the board so attractive with fresh pictures and interesting material every week.

The Club, under the guiding hand of Mr. Foster and the direction of the officers, Gail Wallis, president; Bill Penner, vice president; Mary Patrick, secretary; and Mary Anne Myers, treasurer, has done much work toward the betterment of voluntary learning and self help in photography.

CURTAIN GOING UP!

Friday evening, February 13, 1953, the annual Gould Academy winter carnival three one-act plays were presented in the William Bingham gymnasium.

The curtains parted at eight o'clock, and we found ourselves looking into the reception room of the Maharajah's palace in India, the setting for The Command Performance by Harold Knapp. The Maharajah, played effectively by Ray Nowlin, was seeking revenge for the murder of his son by a British soldier by suggesting a "game" to his seven white guests, to which they responded eagerly, little realizing that his "game" was reality and that before sunset one of them, chosen by them, should die. John Kirby, a scientist, Bill Penner, acted as judge as each gave his reasons for wanting to live. Janette Lawrence, a singer, Polly Timperly, begged to die; the reasons of Mabel Morrison, a fluttery mother, played by Barbara Jodrey, were not acceptable; Albert Rosetti, an artist, Carter Taylor, begged to die in Janette's place but was refused. Claudia Winters, a novelist, Martha Spaulding, believed success in literature to be ahead of her and wished to live for this reason. Upon learning that the Maharajah was not fooling, Henry Collins, a doctor, played by Harrison Philbrick, brought out his gun only to be threatened by the dagger-happy Rajpoot, the Maharajah's military commander, Harley Merrill. James Van Loon, an idler, played by Buzz McMorran, who had been judged incompetent to die, gave his life before he could be stopped that his companions might live. Nancy Taillon played the Ayah, the Maharajah's silent, veiled servant.

The next play on the program was a comedy, Cabbages by Edward Staadt. It centers around Mrs. Wilhelmina Grossmeier, played by Gailey Brooks, and her household in a boom town—oil! What happens to her plans after the geneologist's report! Gus, her long suffering husband, Dave Ault, argued with his spouse but did what any wise man would do in the end, gave in to his wife and made out checks! Tildy, their daughter, Kay Dorey, tried hard to be sophisticated but was happier when she didn't have to pretend. Mrs. Lena Fischer, an old friend, played by Joan Shippee, solved all her problems by saying, "I'm well, thank you!" Mr. Markle, the geneologist, Frank Linnell, really messed up Wilhelmina's plans for an easy climb up the social ladder by giving accurate facts concerning the Grossmeier ancestry — stolen pigs and steerage boats; Mr. Jenks, a reporter, Dave Edelstein, alarmed by the actions of this household, was paid for keeping this "front-page" story out of the papers; Elizabeth, the maid, Anne Backus, who kept getting in Wilhelmina's way, was allowed to hear the geneology and with what results! Mrs. Grossmeier learns through this experience that she was born a cabbage, and nothing will ever change her to a rose.

The last play of the evening was The Boy Comes Home by A. A. Milne. The story takes place in the living room of Uncle James' residence in London, shortly after the close of World War I. Uncle James, Don Sweeney, plans everything in his household down to the most minute detail; his young nephew, Philip, an English war veteran, played by Doug Saunders, returns from the war and immediately starts to disrupt the household, first by ordering a hearty breakfast in the middle of the forenoon and consequently getting into trouble with Mrs. Higgins, the belligerent cook, Frances Russell. Aunt Emily, gentle and dominated, played by Marcia Theriault, tries to soothe her husband and smooth matters over between Uncle James and the nephew whom she adored; however, Uncle James' plans were not to be changed by a young upstart, and the two were to have a man-to-man talk. Again Uncle James' plans are disrupted, for he finds that his nephew is no longer a boy, as he was when he went to war, unable to make his own decisions; in fact, Philip, after playfully threatening his uncle with a gun he used in the war, has complete control over Uncle James, and the latter changes his mind, letting his nephew choose his own career; strangely enough, the youth finally decides that if there is still an opening in his uncle's jam business, he might like to try it. Of course, he must take his gun with him on the first day of work to be sure no one changes his mind!

Under the direction of Mr. Walter Marcuse, the Gould Academy orchestra played selections before the plays began and between the first and second. Between the second and last plays, there were vocal selections by Sylvia Ring and Kay Dorey and an instrumental by a three-piece ensemble: Dick Emery, piano; Doug Saunders, drums; and Dave Vincent, trumpet

Carol Cummings was stage manager and chairman of the "prop" committee— Judy Lamson, Dave Gove, and Beverly Noyes. Mrs. David Thompson, Miss Valerie Kimball, and "Joe" Roderick handled the make-up for the entire cast. Our dramatic coach, Mr. David Thompson, directed the three plays and with everyone's co-operation made them a big success.

The annual senior three-act play, this year a comedy written by Aurand Harris entitled The Moon Makes Three, was presented at the William Bingham Gymnasium the evening of April 24, 1953.

This is the story of Marsy Bailey's big discovery. Sixteen year old Marsy, played by Henrietta Swain, thinks she doesn't envy her sister Eleanor's, Polly Timperly, junior executive, Wendell Wilcox, played by Bill Penner, or her sister E-Ann's, Betsi Mumford, stag line, including Nickie Barlow, played by Dick Emery and Freddie Smith, played by Barry York. Others in E-Ann's set are Eve Wilson, who does a little Hawaiian dance, played by Arlene Bennett, Frank Hall, a college boy, played by Dave Ault, Jenny Mae West, whose Indian blanket comes in handy, played by Virginia Lewis, and Minetta Miller, who has just returned from a trip to New York and wants to be sure everyone knows about it, played by Gail DiBiaso. Marsy would rather curl up with a psychology book. But Grandma, played by Lillian Guerney, has other plans and takes a hand.

Marsy shows her true feelings when watching her two sisters and her mother, played by Marcia Theriault, leave for a masquerade dance, beautiful in their costumes and happy with their friends. Even Marsys' eight year old brother, John Henry, played by Lucy Beckett, who has a mania for ghosts and box tops, goes out on Halloween. Grandma, who reads psychology herself, knows the right moment has come, and with the help of a neighbor boy, Terry Randolph, played by Frank Linnell, sends Marsy off to the dance in true Cinderella style.

At the party in Grandma's dress, Marsy sees the soft lights and hears the music. A handsome Southerner, Roger Hall, played by Dave Edelstein, appears and introduces her to the moon. Life becomes as gay as colored lanterns, and she dances merrily until the clock strikes twelve. However, it is the masked stranger who disappears, and Marsy makes a desperate attempt to find her unknown suitor, but he has left behind only a shoe as a clue to his identity.

For three weeks she suspects everybody she meets. Finally, she decides it was her oldest sister's fiance, and the hour before Eleanor's wedding, during the confusion of last minute preparations, Marsy confronts him. Then she learns the rest of Grandma's scheme and discovers that the neighbor boy has qualities which surpass those of any Southern gentleman, and he is far more interesting than psychology. At the same time, he discovers that there is more in life than a second-hand car.

Backstage, taking care of the props were Cleo Stinchfield (chairman), Carol Cummings, Judy Lamson, Earl Fletcher, Albert Taylor, and Harley Merrill (electrician). In charge of costumes were Frances Russell (chairman), Ann Backus, and Shirlie Bartlett. Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and Joe Roderick were responsible for make-up for the entire cast. Our thanks go, too, to Bev Lurvey, program chairman, Colleen Mead, in charge of tickets, Beth Swan, poster chairman, and Mr. Anderson who was in charge of the ushers. Special thanks go to Miss Valeria Kimball whose tireless directing made our play a complete success.

This marks the second year of the FHA organization at Gould. The most important factor is leadership. We try to promote this by assigning each member to take charge of a meeting. The meetings are held at the cottage or at the home of the chapter mothers, Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Violet Bennett, every other Wednesday. Our chapter mothers have been very willing to help whenever needed.

The state convention was held at Portland last spring. The girls met members from other eastern Maine schools. They are looking forward to this year's convention with much enthusiasm.

One of the most interesting programs at one of our meetings was a talk given by a Gould student, Nancy Taillon, on Gautemala. She told about the social and economic life there. Also, we have had meetings on hair styling and Christmas suggestions. Some of our work projects have consisted of sewing on the football uniforms, selling refreshments at the canteen in the gymnasium, and assisting with the grammar school fair.

This year a few ambitious members earned the first degree of achievement, the Junior Homemaker Degree. This degree was attained by working toward goals which would help the member grow as an individual and a member of a home, club, school, and community. Those members completing their work received a key pendant which is the symbol of the Junior Homemaker.

French Club

Organized in the fall of 1951, the French Club has become an indispensable part of Gould life.

Its officers are as follows:

President	Marcia Theriault
Secretary	Henrietta Swain
Treasurer	Peter St. Lawrence

Led by these officers, the organization —open to students taking second or third year French—has become essential to students who wish to have fun while gaining much knowledge about France.

The annual French skit before the general assembly along with the French Christmas party highlights the year; however, the games, the songs, the parties, and the informal talks on France contribute to the enjoyment of the students.

Besides accomplishing its aim of giving its members a wider, more complete view of the French, the club holds an interesting and enjoyable time for all.

Football

It did not take long for Coach Scott to begin the long practice period for the 1952 football squad. The first days of school found many hopeful applicants lining up at the equipment door prepared to don their newly received uniforms and begin the hard drills. Under the combined help of Joe Roderick and Paul Kailey, Coach Scott began the building of a strong, aggressive, and spirited team to face a none-too-easy schedule of seven games. With an eye out for the new members and a knowing glance at the abilities of the veterans of past seasons, the three of them put together a partial two-platoon system and journeyed to Mexico for a contest against a highly favored Pinto team.

It did not take much time for the boys to show their power, as they marched to an early touchdown on the strength of a 45 yard run by Eddie Burnham. The conversion was completed. Mexico fought back and tied the score in the second period. Scoring again in the third, Mexico began to show the power that it had been expected to display. This, however, was completely forgotten as the Gould boys executed a razzledazzle triple reverse and pass play that sent Sonny Hastings zooming to the end zone with the tying score. This 13-13 tie was an unexpected accomplishment by the boys.

Spurred by this excellent showing, the Huskie eleven easily subdued the South Paris team the following week on the Alumni Field to the tune of 16-0. The team started strong as Frank Linnell and Skip Melville reached the cross-lined end zone during the second period. During the remainder of the contest, though, South Paris put up a strong defense, and the final scoring was a safety as Skip Melville dumped a Paris runner behind his own goal line.

These victorious boys went next to Norway and built up an even greater score as they smothered the home team 31-12. Frank Linnell was the big gun in the Huskie attack with 13 points to his credit. His work was backed up by touchdowns by Rowe, Murphy, and Melville. Norway did their bit of scoring with a touchdown in each of the second and third periods.

With all the numerous parents lining the stands and sidelines, the team produced an exciting game against Lyndon of Vermont as the main event of Parents' Day Weekend. The pigskin toters started early. A pass from Adams to Corey set up a first-period score by Frank Murphy. Burnham continued the attack with a second-period score. As the second half progressed, the Lyndon team tightened up as they blocked a punt and romped to a quick score. Again they threatened to cross the Gould goal line, but a spectacular interception and touchdown return by Linnell broke the game wide open. Lyndon scored again, but the damage had been done, and the game ended in a 19-13 edge for Gould.

Under adverse conditions of wind and cold, the boys next stalemated a powerful and scrappy Berlin team. The game was strictly a defensive affair as neither team approached the other's goal line; yet a 0-0 tie with Berlin was also unexpected, and the boys were quite content with this result.

The sixth game was also a close affair as Gould took advantage of a break and edged the spirited boys at Wilton 6-0. After Harry Philbrick recovered a Wilton fumble, the inspired team set up a score for Buzzy McMorran. This proved to be the only tally. The Wilton team struggled and used all its effort to gain a score, but each time it was finally stopped by the Gould defense.

To end the season in a sweep of glory, the boys defeated a stubborn Fryeburg eleven by the small score of 7-0. Recovering from a first half defensive fight, they began to roll. In the third period after Melville had intercepted a pass, Burnham pushed the ball over for a T-D. They again pushed forward, but were stopped after a 60-yard march.

Those boys never to be seen in a Gould football uniform again are Capt. Erwin Bacon, Frank Linnell, Melvin Olson, Don Sweeney, Peter Oakes, Sonny Hastings, Frank Murphy, Dave Edelstein, Harry Philbrick, and Merle Cole. Their constant fight and teamwork will long be remembered, and we wish them the best of luck next year. Also, we congratulate the undergraduates returning to back up Captain-elect Skip Melville and wish them much continued glory.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country

Gould's cross-country team ran up an impressive undefeated record in dual competition with some of Maine's best running squads of 1952 as they grabbed wins over Portland High, Stephens High of Rumford, and Fryeburg Academy, all who ranked among the state's seven leading high and prep school teams. It was Coach Fossett's third undefeated season in dual competition since he took over the helm in 1947; during this time his teams have chalked up the commendable record of twenty wins against only four losses. Teamwork was the big factor in the success of the harriers. Although they never had an individual winner, they bunched their five finishers among the first eight in every meet. This proved to be important in the final scoring since team totals are figured by the final positions of the first five runners of each team.

The candidates reported immediately after school opened and started working out to develop strength and stamina for the important meets ahead. Six lettermen returned, and with the other experienced members and new recruits the Huskies rounded out a fifteen-man squad. The boys conditioned themselves well in preparing for the scheduled opener on October 9.

Fryeburg Academy, the team that later became state prep school champions in the state meet at Orono, journeyed to Bethel and succumbed to the eager Gould runners 22-37. Although Ray Payne of the visitors won the race, Bosworth, Rolfe, Emery, Lingham, and Merrill grabbed the second, third, fourth, fifth, and eighth spots to clinch the victory.

It was a big win for the Huskies, and it put them in high spirits for their battle with Portland High School on October 16. The Bulldogs have been a traditional rival since the sport was started at Gould and have always produced a strong club. The Academy runners bunched Bosworth, Emery, Merrill, Lingham, and Rolfe together again after two Portland leaders had crossed the line to total twenty-five points and took the decision 25-34.

The boys realized that the opportunity for an undefeated season was theirs if they could top Stephens High of Rumford on October 21. This was a big order, for the Panthers were yet to be beaten against highly-rated competition. A group of determined Gould runners traveled to Rumford and, although missing the services of their captain, Harley Merrill, their high morale had them primed for the showdown. Again Bosworth, Emery, Rolfe, and Lingham finished strong; with Fleet filling the ailing Merrill's shoes and running a great race as Gould's fifth man, the Huskies edged by for a 25-30 win.

The scheduled meet with Dixfield on October 29 was cancelled to allow the team to enter the state meet at Orono on that date. With twenty high schools and about 140 individual competitors racing over the 2.5 mile University of Maine course, the Gould runners landed the tenth place with a final score of 304 points. Dick Emery placed thirty-first among the finishers to pace his teammates as Bosworth, Rolfe, Fleet, and Lingham followed. Lee Academy, Presque Isle, and Houlton won the first three team honors.

Six of the team's runners, Dale Bosworth, Dick Emery, Captain Harley Marrill, Leo Rolfe, Ed Hastings, and Dave Ault will not return next fall. Bosworth lead his teammates in every dual meet and will be severly missed. Emery, in his first year of competition, was an unexpected addition who placed consistently near the pace-setters to add generously to the team's success. Rolfe was another consistent finisher who stayed among the team's top five, and Merrill placed strongly until hindered by a knee injury. Hastings and Ault should be commended on their perseverence, which added to the over-all success of the team.

Three of the seven letterman will be returning for another season: Captain-elect Bob Lingham, David Fleet, and Raymond Nowlin. Others whose experience will be beneficial are Malvern Wilson, Billy Coolidge, Harry Taylor, Bob Edney, and Frank Benson.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Basketball

Gould's basketball fans witnessed, this year, one of the best, and certainly one of the most thrilling seasons the school has had in recent years. The boys, determined to outdo the previous year's slate, broke many a team's heart and gave spectators a sore throat as a reminder of their repeated thrillers. Playing nine different teams with fifteen games, the hoopsters came out in front with nine wins and six losses, an excellent record. A new floor at the start of the season possibly convinced the boys of the interest in basketball, and they certainly came through.

There were three of last year's squad that had graduated: Captain Henri Agnese, the hook shot artist; Pete Johnson, expert dribbler and set shot champ; and Andy Biden, a hard-playing, aggressive ball handler. Coach Anderson realized that the return of four lettermen would alleviate the task of selecting a first squad in the few weeks before the first game and a fifth member was soon found to complete the quintet. Then, with ten days of practice under the gold belts, the Huskies tugged at their leashes and the season began.

The Huskies played a fairly consistent game throughout the season. Their few "off nights", however, came at crucial times, which left Gould just short of the conference championship and a place in the Western Maine Tourney. Another win over Mexico or a win from Paris might have been plenty to put the "Blue and Gold" in the tourney.

Many unwary teams were surprised at the seeming excess of energy displayed by the Gould team as they drove their basket and fought until the last horn to keep a lead or to try for just one more basket. The sportsmanship shown by our team and our opponents made the '52-'53 season one which will long be remembered.

One of the surprise upsets was our trip to Wilton where the Gould cagers defeated the Sun-Journal Eastern Division Champs 52-37. Too, we seemed to have an overdose of close games and many of the fans remarked that they got their full ticket's worth of excitement.

Captain Leo Rolfe, center, was high scorer of the team this season with 220 points. He was also top pointer for Gould in five of the fifteen games, scoring 24 points against Livermore and Mexico. Not far behind, Paul Fossett, first-class forward, racked up 205 points for the team with six high marks in the fifteen games. Frankie Murphy, top-notch guard, came across with 121 points, scored mostly from his special corner with a set shot, a constant worry of the opponents.

Carroll Melville, scoring 68 points at forward, proved to be a valuable asset to the team and a surprise to his taller adversaries. Not handicapped by his lack of height, Skippy often out-jumped and always out-guarded his man. Dick Emery, Gene White, Harley Merrill, and Albert Taylor spelled the first group, all playing exceptionally good ball.

The following players were presented their letter awards for the season: Paul Fossett, Richard Emery, Harley Merrill, Gene White, Skip Melville, Albert Taylor and Manager Earle Fletcher. Graduating this year are Murphy, Emery, Taylor, and Merrill. Also lost to the team will be Captain Leo Rolfe who becomes 20 years old before another season rolls along. Murphy, Rolfe, and Emery having been regulars for two years will be hard to replace. As always, though, we may look forward to another season of thrills.

Considering the previous experience of the team, Coach Anderson believes that the boys did an excellent job, never giving up and always fighting hard to play their best. Out of fifteen starts, Gould earned an average of 51 points per game compared with a straight 50 for the opposition.

Although valuable men are leaving, the future Gould team will be built around three of the first team, White, Fossett, and Melville, another winning combination. Looking up from J.V. Ball, Rowe, Daley, McDonald, M. White, and H. Rolfe are sure to be wearing the white jerseys next year.

This year, the young Husky Pups came out with ten wins and two losses, an almost perfect score. Under Coach Bowhay, they get a fine basic training and basketball background with which to step into the varsity squad.

Winter Sports

By the time the snow had really started to pile up, Mr. Kailey had picked out of a large group of recruits what he considered worthy of representing the Blue and Gold as a ski team. These lucky individuals included co-captains Tom Butler and Ed Hastings, Erwin Bacon, Herb Adams, "Buster" Brown, Ed Burnham, Melvin Olson, Pete St. Lawrence and Verne Corkum. Of these, only St. Lawrence and Corkum were new additions to last year's team. Dave Ault was manager and as assistants, Alan Chase and Bob Lingham filled the bill.

The first meet of the year was scheduled with Holderness team at Holderness, New Hampshire, but lack of snow caused the meet to be canceled. The next week a meet had been scheduled with Lyndon, Vermont, but after Gould had won the cross-country by a margin of six points, rain caused the cancelation of all other events.

Finally, although a scarcity of snow prevailed, Gould was able to compete in its first meet of the year. At the Edward Little Carnival in Auburn, Maine, Gould picked up a second place to Edward Little.

The next week-end Gould traveled to Rumford, Maine, where they picked up first place in the Rumford Carnival, taking three of the four events. Ed Burnham won the cross-country but Rumford won it by a fraction of a point, Gould standing second and Edward Little third. In the downhill Erwin Bacon of Gould tied Taylor of E. L. for first place, Brown tied Webber of Farmington for second, and Adams tied Towle of E. L. for third. Ed Hastings took seventh, thus allowing Gould to take the event. In the slalom

Brown took first, Hastings and St. Lawrence tied for second, and Butler took fifth, giving Gould a comfortable twelve-point margin in this event. In the last event, jumping, Burnham took third, Adams fourth, Bacon fifth and Olson ninth to sew up the last event and the meet at the same time. Final totals showed Gould with 391.34 points to Rumford's 369.06. These two teams were followed by Edward Little, Andover, and Farmington.

At the Gould Carnival, the team was host to five teams, including a highly regarded Lebanon, New Hampshire team, Edward Little, Rumford, Berlin, and Farmington. Lebanon took the first event, cross-country, although Burnham of Gould took first place. In the Alpine events Gould fared better, winning them easily and having a 12 point lead on Lebanon going into the jumping. Edward Little took the jumping by three points, with Gould edging Lebanon for second place. Final results showed Gould winning the meet easily with a twelve-point margin over Lebanon and a twenty-point gap over Edward Little.

The next week-end the team traveled to Farmington for the state meet, where they edged E. L. by 87 one-hundreths of a point, taking the cross-country and slalom while E. L. took the jumping and downhill. Gould took the first three places in cross-country as Herb Adams took first place to become state champ and Burnham and Bacon tied for second. In the downhill Pete St. Lawrence picked up a third place for Gould for their best showing. In the slalom Herb Adams took a third, and he was followed by Buster Brown with a fourth. Tom Butler took sixth and St. Lawrence seventh. It was Adams again who made the best showing as he took fourth in the jumping. He was followed by Corkum who took fifth. Final totals showed Gould with 383.1 points and Edward Little with 382.27.

The end of the season was not far distant as Gould traveled to Berlin, New Hampshire to battle it out in the New England Ski Meet. At the end of the first two events, cross-country and downhill, Lebanon was leading with Gould second and E. L. third. Herb Adams took third in the cross-country, behind Art Demers and Jim Carr of Lebanon. Pete St. Lawrence made the best showing for Gould in the downhill as he tied for seventh place. He also was first for Gould in the slalom as he picked up a tenth; Herb Adams took first in the jump for Gould with a seventh. The final totals showed Lebanon as New England champs with 387.25 points. They were followed by Gould with 365.53. E. L. followed.

The Huskies wound up the season, traveling to Lyndon, Vermont to participate in the Eastern Interscholastic Ski Meet. They picked up a fourth place in the Easterns, behind Lebanon, E. L. and Lyndon. Herb Adams again came through for Gould in the cross-country, establishing himself as Eastern champ by beating New England champ, Demers, of Lebanon by one second. Gould took a second in this event, behind Lebanon. In the downhill and slalom, they didn't fare as well, taking a sixth in each event. In the jump they managed to take a third behind Lebanon and E. L., thus going down fighting. Final results showed Lebanon Eastern champs with E. L. second.

Prospects for next year look fairly good with Erwin Bacon being the only loss in cross-country. In downhill and slalom next year's team will be minus co-captains Tom Butler and Ed Hastings, Brown, and Bacon. In the jump only Bacon and Olson will be missing. Under the fine coaching of Paul Kailey these remaining boys will continue the tradition of Gould for putting out a consistently good team.

BASEBALL TEAM 1952

Baseball

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Bowhay and with a fair number of lettermen in their old positions, Gould went into their first game with South Paris at South Paris on April 26, 1952. The Huskies grabbed one of their runs in the first inning and kept the scoring going all through the game with two runs in the third, three in the fifth, one in the sixth and two more in the ninth to make the final score nine to six in the Huskies favor.

Three days later at Norway the boys had a hard time scoring and were defeated by Thurston with a score of two to one. Herbie Adams pitched a good game, allowing only three hits during the entire game. Roger Adams picked up the only Gould run in the second inning.

On May 2, Gould went to Gorham, New Hampshire, where they defeated Gorham sixteen to eight. Nearly all the boys got in on the scoring with Lovejoy picking up two, Rowe two, Capt. Johnson three, Bartlett three, H. Adams two, Jordan two, and Melville and Coulombe with one apiece.

South Paris came to Bethel on May 10 to get back at the Huskies to even up the score. South Paris walked away with a score of eight to one, leaving Gould with a record of two and two.

May 14th brought Gould another win, this time over Mexico by a margin of fifteen to three. Capt. Johnson lead the Huskies with three runs for four hits. Young Ed Burnham, a freshman was right behind him with three hits while the rest of the team did well on the hitting and scoring.

Gould was host to the Norway team on May 17 and were defeated a second time by the strong Norway nine by a score of six to one.

Fryeburg took the Huskies over in an eight to seven defeat on May 20 at Fryeburg. The Gould nine was leading into the eighth when Fryeburg came up with three runs to put them ahead by a run which the Huskies couldn't seem to regain.

At Hosmer Field on May 27, Gould defeated Mexico for the second time to even up their record on a four win-four loss basis. This time the Huskies' margin was six to two over the Mexico nine.

The Huskies never got an opportunity to have a second try at Fryeburg because all scheduled dates were rained out, and, therefore, they ended the season with a four win-four loss record.

Although the class of 1952 took Johnson, Patterson, R. Adams, Jordan, and Lovejoy with it, I'm sure Mr. Bowhay will put a fine team on the diamond this spring for the 1953 season. Paul Bartlett was elected captain of this season's team which will have such veterans as Skip Melville, Phil Rowe, Herbie Adams, Ed Burnham, Phil Corey, Lionel Coulombe, and Howie Rolfe as a good foundation to start with.

TRACK TEAM

Track

While the reluctant drifts gradually melted away under the insistent rays of the spring sun, the track candidates were limbering up in the field house for the fast-approaching season. The prospects looked good, for back for another year under the expert coaching of Joe Roderick and Mr. Scott came veterans Frank Linnell, Sonny Hastings, Norm Ferguson, Erwin Bacon, and captain John Symons while many more eager candidates were waiting to round out the squad.

On the 15th of March Gould journeyed to the Bowdoin track meet for its first action of the season. The team did not make too good a showing, but the experience gained was valuable, and it gave the coaches ideas on how to improve the team's efficiency.

On May 3 Gould won its first victory of the season, 95-22 over Cheverus on the home field. The Gould tracksters swept all thirteen events. High men for Gould were Linnell with eighteen points, Bacon with sixteen points, and Symons with ten points. Sonny Hastings established a new Gould record of 10' 7" in the pole vault.

Gould's well-balanced track team won its second victory of the season over Farmington on the Gould field, 81-36. Gould took ten out of thirteen events under the excellent work of Linnell, Bacon, Nowlin, Hastings, and Symons.

On May 17 the Gould contingent went to the annual Bates Relays to defend their last year's crown. Gould spotted Wells twenty-four points in the field events, but in the relays, the Gould boys made an amazing comeback by taking thirty-two out of a possible forty points, but even this wasn't enough, as Gould fell short by a mere two points. Hastings and Bacon were outstanding for Gould.

Next, the powerful Gould team took the Oxford County meet on May 24. Frank Linnell with two firsts and a tie and Bacon with two firsts sparked Gould to the victory.

Gould's last year's class M track winners in the State Meet went back to the meet this year to defend the title, Skowhegan, runner-up to Gould in 1951, came back to win the meet. High men for Gould were Symons with six points and Bacon with five points. Gould with thirty-two points placed third in the meet behind Thornton Academy with forty-three points and Skowhegan with fifty-one and one-half points.

Those who have given their last year of service to Gould are Captain John Symons, Norm Ferguson, Gerry Fortin, and Andy Biden. We extend our congratulations to these boys who have put in so much hard work for their school.

Next year the backbone of the team will be formed by Captain Warren Hastings, Ray Nowlin, Dale Bosworth, Frank Linnell, and Erwin Bacon.

Here's for another successful season!

Athletic Council

The Gould Academy Athletic Council, under the able guidance of our Headmaster, Mr. Elwood F. Ireland, is now terminating its sixth successful year of supervising the school sports program.

This organization is composed of five permanent members and five elective members. The five permanent members are: Mr. Elwood Ireland, Chairman; Mr. Ordell Anderson, Faculty Director of Atheletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar; Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; and Miss Doryce Arndt, Girls' Physical Education Director.

The other five members and their positions are as follows: Mr. George Bowhay, Head Coach; Frank Linnell, Student Council representative; Marie Mills, Girls' Athletic Association representative; Mr. Lesile Davis, Trustee representative; and Mr. Murray Thurston, Alumni representative.

The council has specific duties plus meeting any unexpected problems which may arise in the realm of sports. Some of these duties are: approving athletic schedules, reviewing budgets and equipment, obtaining officials for home games, confirming the accuracy of the lists of candidates for "G's" sent in by the coaches, and establishing policies regarding athletic injuries.

In order to receive a letter, a boy must meet certain requirements in each sport and ultimately be approved by the council. A boy receiving six letters in succession or seven letters during his years at Gould is entitled to a blue and gold letter sweater, awarded for outstanding athletic work. Those who received sweaters at the end of the winter term were: Erwin Bacon, Edward Hastings, and Herbert Adams, Erwin and Herbert receiving theirs for six letters in a row and Edward for seven in all.

Those earning letters in 1952 are:

Basketball:

Henri Agnese, (Capt.), Leo Rolfe, (Capt. elect), Frank Murphy, David Jordon, Richard Emery, Paul Fossett, Arnold Jordon, Pete Johnson, and Frank Linnell, (Mgr.).

Skiing:

Norman Ferguson (Capt,), Roger Adams, Herbert Adams, Gerald Fortin, Edward Burnham, Edward Hastings, Carlton Brown, Erwin Bacon, Tom Butler, Pete Hussey, (Mgr.), and Read Cheyne, (Mgr.).

Track:

John Symons, (Capt.), Erwin Bacon, Norman Ferguson, Warren Hastings, Frank Linnell, Frank Murphy, Fred O. Smith, Roderick Swift, Raymond Nowlin, David Fleet, Floyd Staples, Richard Trimback, David Moore, Gerald Fortin, and Read Cheyne, (Mgr.).

Baseball:

Pete Johnson, (Capt.), Carrol Melville, Phil Rowe, Robert Patterson, Phil Lovejoy, Paul Bartlett, Edward Burnham, Gene White, Herbert Adams, Roger Adams, David Jordan, and Donald Bennett, (Mgr.).

Football:

Erwin Bacon, (Capt.), Herbert Adams, Paul Bartlett, Wendall Bragg, Richard Budge, Edward Burnham, Merle Cole, Phil Corey, Vern Corkum, David Edelstein, Van Gale, Warren Hastings, Arlan Jodrey, Frank Linnell, Carroll Melville, Carl Merrill, Frank Murphy, Peter Oakes, Melvin Olson, Carmen Pettapiece, Harrison Philbrick, Phil Rowe, Donald Sweeney, Leo Tyler, Felix McMorran, and Bill Penner, (Mgr.).

Cross Country:

Harley Merrill, (Capt.), Richard Emery, Dale Bosworth, Leo Rolfe, Robert Lingham, David Fleet, Raymond Nowlin, and Paul Fossett, (Mgr.).

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

Girls' Physical Education

Whether it's a knock-out, drag-down game of basketball, shin-bruising hockey, climbing the heights of Mount Washington amid drenching mists, or any other of the numerous recreational activities for Gouldites, the girls take sports just as seriously as the boys.

The girls' gym program is under the auspices of the Girls' Athletic Association. The purpose of this organization is to cooperate with the department of Physical Education in promoting permanent interest in recreation and sports, and to emphasize sportsmanship. Officers for 1953 are president, Marie Mills; vice president, Mary Anne Myers; and Secretary-treasurer, Jane Smith. The A.A. also consists of class representatives and managers of organized sports. This year, Henri Swain was the senior class representative, Nancy Carver, the junior representative, Dianne Watson, the sophomore representative, and Judy Freeman the freshman class representative. Sport's managers were: Mary Hewitt, tennis; Charlotte Bidwell, field hockey; Joan Connor, hiking; Dorothy Bartlett, volleyball; Donna Anderson, basketball; Judy Lamson, skiing; Pat Learned, badminton; Shirley Bartlett, archery, and Colleen Mead, softball.

During the fall, winter, and spring, any girl has the opportunity to sign up for the sports she wishes to pursue. In the fall, tennis, field hockey, and hiking are offered. Winter sports include volleyball, basketball, archery, ping-pong, badminton, and skiing. In the spring a young girl's fancy turns to thoughts of softball, tennis, or hiking.

Five points are earned by participating in a sport, with a possible added two for the class team, or three additional points for the varsity Blue and Gold teams. Some sports, such as badminton, ping-pong, hiking, and tennis, limit the possible number of points to either five or to the extent of a girl's ability as revealed by tournaments. This year Sylvia Ring came out on top in the bowling tournament, but as yet it isn't known who will take the honors in the ping-pong tournament. In skiing either five or ten points are possible, depending upon whether a girl is able to fit in extra practices in addition to the regular two lessons each week. Many of us who occasionally muster our courage and decide to take our skiis out in the snow just to rub a little dust off the bottoms often end up by rubbing a little dust off our bottom! It's evident we can't all be Bobsie Dudley's!

An accumulation of fifty points entitles the bearer to her class numerals, eighty points earns a "G", and one hundred points may possibly merit an athletic plaque. This is determined by a vote of the A.A. members and women faculty.

Special activities have been carried on under the sponsorship of the Girls' Physical Education Department. Freshman and sophomore boys and girls were given the opportunity to "trip the light fantastic". Ball room dancing lessons were offered twice a week in an effort to reduce the number of mashed toes resulting from the regular Friday night dances. Also offered as a weekly extra were "knot-tying sessions" or, commonly called, knitting lessons. Freshman girls were instructed in a standard first-aid course.

Every year, extensive hikes are taken either on foot or on bicycles. The annual Mt. Washington climb was made October 6th. This year, the autumn splendor helped make the 6293 ft. hike more enjoyable, the climbers arriving at the summit weary, yet not drenched to the skin as was the case last year. Bike hikes to Hanover, Screw Auger Falls, Gilead, and Locke Mills, were also a part of the fall program.

September 27th, one of the tennis courts was stripped of its net, lights were strung around the top of the high fence, and tables set up outside for refreshments to complete the reformation. The Future Homemakers of America collaborated with the A.A., organizing the square dance which culminated in group singing around a fire in the picnic grove.

On March 5 brothers and sisters will be given the opportunity to battle-it-out, only this family disagreement will be a friendly one. The "House Divided" basketball game will be a change from the usual boys' vs girls' basketball game held each year.

As the Herald goes to press, the annual A.A. party has not as yet been held. Scheduled for March 21, the party will include, as is the custom, class skits.

It is hoped that Gould's extensive athletic program for girls will initiate a greater interest in athletics and promote to a greater degree the spirit of sportsmanship.

CHARLOTTE BIDWELL, '53

Boys' Physical Education

The molding of strong agile bodies plays an important part in high school today. This is accomplished through regular classes of Physical Education. Boys' Physical Education classes for the juniors and seniors are held daily. For the sophomores and freshmen the classes are alternated with the corrective classes. These classes under the capable supervision of "Joe" Roderick provide an outlet for excess energy and a break from the ordinary course of school work. Each class extends over a period of three-quarters of an hour.

Twice a year each boy is given a strength test. In this test the weight and height is checked. The lung capacity and the strength in the grip, back, legs and arms of every boy are also carefully tested. The results are recorded and compared with previous tests.

For freshmen and sophomores who need them, corrective exercises are given. Whether or not a boy needs these helpful correctives is decided by an examination administered by "Joe" Roderick. Minor defects, such as low shoulders, etc., are corrected.

The gym class is not entirely composed of routine exercises, for a greater part of the period is devoted to games and sports, which the boys enter into with a great deal of enthusiasm. In the early fall, sports such as touch football and soccer, are played on the football field. When it begins to get colder, and winter is just around the corner, the boys go indoors where they play kick baseball, volleyball, etc. Instruction in the fundamentals of boxing is also given. This may prove very valuable in the future if one is faced with the problem of self protection. Some of the holds and tricks of wrestling are also taught. Each student is taught how to play badminton and hand ball. With a knowledge of the rules he may play these games on his own time in any one of three courts. Basketball is another favorite with the boys. Every year the classes are briefed on the fundamentals of the game. Tumbling has proved to be very popular. This sport is not only interesting but is very valuable as it develops agility and balance. The student who can tumble may someday save himself from injury caused by falling. Stunts are also taught on the trampoline, on the parallel bars, and on the horizontal bar. The trampoline develops balance and control in the air. The gymnastics taught on the parallel bars and on the horizontal bar, as in all other gymnastic activities, give the student self-confidence and enable his mind and body to work in unison.

Every other year in the spring the boys give a gym exhibition. All of the boys participate. Each class may specialize in some particular sport such as pyramid building, relay races, or tumbling.

In recent years there has been a new emphasis on Physical Education. The boys are being prepared to meet the physical requirements of the Armed Services. This means more work and less play, but thanks to "Joe" this has been accomplished to the benefit of all of those in his classes.
